Yearbook Staff 2014/2015
A special thanks to this extraordinary group of seniors that dedicated their year creating this yearbook. They learned how to work as a team despite all being individuals. They discovered strengths in one another that they could rely on. They all walk away knowing that they contributed wholeheartedly to this monumental task. Without them this book would not exist. I respect and admire each of them for who they are and what they have accomplished! They will be missed! Ms. H.

These talented and compassionate students volunteered to participate in The Memory Project, a non-profit outreach program in which students create original drawings and paintings of disadvantaged children. The portraits are hand-delivered to the disadvantaged individuals as a gift, something for them to treasure, to save and cherish. Our SHS students created 15 portraits for 15 individuals in India; these portraits were delivered with hundreds of others made by students across the USA, to various destinations within India and around the world.

Don't be dismayed at good-byes. A farewell is necessary before you can meet again. And meeting again, after moments or lifetimes, is certain for those who are friends"
